SCHOOL SUBJECT TUTORS

Could you make a difference for high school pupils in Midlothian and East Lothian in academic year 2023/24?

THE INITIATIVE

The Enhanced Learning Tutoring Initiative (ELTI) is a high school tutoring programme run by Queen Margaret University. It was initially set up in 2020/21 as a response to the educational challenges faced by young people due to Covid-19 school closures. Due to the success of the programme, tutoring provision has been continued for a fourth year and delivery has now commenced for academic year 2023/24.

The programme works with high schools and community organisations in Midlothian and East Lothian, offering weekly tutoring sessions to eligible S4-S6 pupils who are working towards N4, N5 and Higher qualifications. Tutoring is offered in the full range of SQA subjects. In 2023/24, one-to-one and small group tutoring sessions will take place over two 10-week periods (pre- and post-Christmas). The first 10-week block is now coming to an end, but tutoring will continue after the Christmas break for a further 10 weeks, with options for pupils to continue up to their final exams. Both in-person and online options will be offered.

COULD YOU BE ONE OF OUR TUTORS?

Tutors will have achieved a Higher (or equivalent) in the subject to be tutored and will have either completed a degree, or successfully progressed into the 4th year of an undergraduate degree (not necessarily in the same subject).

We are currently recruiting tutors for STEM subjects (including Maths, Engineering and Computing Science) at Higher level, to deliver sessions in-person and/or online.

A comprehensive training programme is provided for tutors. All tutors will be required to attend an in-person training day at QMU in December 2023. Tutoring will commence in January 2024.

Tutors will be:

- well organised and able to solve problems
- patient and willing to adapt
- able to develop relationships with a diverse group of people
- creative and innovative.
